

Amelia's Message to the Government:

Come on it's time to wake up and take action,
Time to stop with your fossil fuel extraction
Because we're giving up meat and driving and flying,
But what are you doing whilst our planet is dying?
Planet or profit come on you decide,
But we're sick of the half truths, deceptions and lies.
Please – this isn't funny. None of us are laughing.
But it's a joke that you're 'eco' yet incentivise fracking.
If older is wiser I'd rather stay young, thanks.
You're killing the planet, forcing people to food banks.
Does this conversation make you redden and squirm?
Well that's how we feel as we watch the world burn.
We're screaming our views and still you won't listen
But if you're watching this now I know you can't miss 'em!
So watch us rise up, watch us take a stand
Against morals corrupt and policies bland,
Because sometimes it feels like all hope is lost,
But I can't wait for the day when one of us is the boss.
